Know something of everything know everything of something Lord Bingham

Man and the Element - It set forth the claim that when man was created he was given dominion over all things, the element included; so it was claimed that when man came to realize his own dominion he could control all the elements.

This is illustrated in learning to swim. Just as soon as one learns to become at one with the water, he has dominion & can swim in it; become at one with the element and you will have dominion over them.
 "Dominion is oneness with."
